Ethics

This has ruined your life and the world. That it creates and live with its opposite.

The demand for ethics is unethical, so paradoxal.

Is putting the other person into "have to" state, forcing to obey.

A should, a must, an ought is a "have to", not only in aviation, but in daily life as well.

I only evaluate on "dirty, ugly, low-quality", not on ethics. I don't expect ethics, even from my enemy.

The way to get rid of ethics is not to expect/demand it from others.

It wasn't ethics (others rule), that's stopping you and others from doing what they don't do.

If one gets punished due to ethics, everything else around has to be perfect. otherwise it is unfair, so again un-ethical.

Is an enemy of freedom and independence, is an intervener to duty of security and law forces, with no seat you can apply with objection.

With its bi-products all racist, full of hate and horror... by the start, through the end, ethics is biggest threat to societies and the life.

Solving a paradox invalidation of hypothesis

That would make everything (you can imagine) is ethical, including unethical approach of ethics.

Therefore, ethically nothing wrong with racing for front seats

Ethically nothing wrong with disobeying the queue hypothesis: social order, respect invalidation: why lose time? solution is different.

Ethically nothing wrong with the war (except than logical part)

Nothing even wrong with not paying for food

Nothing wrong with anything, its all ethical

Parasite

Since human can produce, it eventually becomes parasite to each other.

Love, marriage, inflation, currency, immigration, boss, employee (not worker), taxes... is to name some forms.

Unveil

Human can not go beyond thievery.

Thievery is an issue of self and vision.

But thieves are “smart” that they can veil it as an issue of ethics.

Thieves would always need partners.

- Didn't they know they are masking their own thievery?
- World wide maybe.

People are their own thieves. Nevermore. Nothing-more.

Then thieves chanted “property belongs to god”, others believed-like.

In honorable memory of Ramesses the Great.

War

All people (human) wants a good life, winners take the good life and war is destructive.

Thinking all horrific events of my life, my penis was cut, lost my mom, eczema due to stress, my 4 teeth was drilled, I can't put my house in my own country, all invoices and bills and debts... which war did I lose? (or others)

Who can say I wasn't under attack from an unknown source?

The Model Surrounding Itself

Building a culture mainly runs on media but can be run within society as well.

Cancel culture, hate culture is to give some examples.

One of most prominent example is to focus on others and their mistakes rather than self.

What is being done is to overwrite year by year, until people don't remember old themselves. rest runs on auto-pilot. people think (quite hard to reverse), this is me, this is life.

So the crew can sail to new horizons.

Ball

All life takes place on a ball that turns non-stop.

At this place, everyone's focused on their journey and can't help others even on most prosperous day.

The will, gets place above everything else to survive, to impact, to realize the life.

Probably many observed, a dog or a bear can not go further when cat is reacting. So life checks if you are still alive or just breathing and chit-chatting around.

Probably they know, one looks alive, may be their end as well.

Life requires some minimum amount of will, rather than being traded for non-life things.

Return

Biggest issue for human life. same carpet, same events, same return after some time.

It's possible to break out locally by breaking daily routines or sudden changes to daily plans. however it gets stuck to return again due to outer circle after reaching maximum.

I wish life flows in a way (for everyone) that i can change my life in a day, leaving all house and belongings behind, that i run away from them.

difficult process of making an application, meetings, tests, paperwork is blocking people, not to mention burden called CV. My objective? make money. what else can be? I think saxophone is nice as a saxophone, not on objectives section of a CV.

No ones happy to lose time in wrong place for them.

My best day in life, the day i moved to USA. Not because it's USA, but everything new, a different lifestyle to see, everything changed, i felt first time i breathe at my 30, when i settle in my room in Greek village.

Ice

This was a protection to “the unknowns” but everybody became unknown.

i cant even talk to my neighbor, while others talking about removing borders.

we never met with that famous person, but i am pretty sure he knows me and i know him.

Meat

It's a corpse, but delicious corpse.

I wonder if somebody else wouldn't kill and service to me, if I would for myself? probably not.

does it make any difference? I guess it does, since nobody wants to be that person.

Money

According to theory of economics, price is where buyer and seller agree. however this agreement can be different on several places around the world, for instance for currencies. it's quite interesting that how all gets synchronized on instant.

Once upon a time, it's been said "grand bazaar" is that place, then moved to London, but nobody knows the name of institution.

It mentions market rationale, however everyone in a single country can agree for a fixed price of a currency, which would set the price of that currency fixed. buyer and seller agrees on price, fits in definition.

And finally human saw, 100 billion dollars don't make 5 kuruş (penny in TRY) in today's exchange rate.

Privacy

Clear sign that something unwanted happening

With privacy, the person things hidden from becomes de facto enemy and question is who is it?

Mr.Parameter

I've been thinking "why society is the first robot human ever built?".

Since time is a parameter (variable def.) Since parameter is a time (absolute def.)

Parameter is a mass Parameter is a force ...

Welcome to the world of Mr.Parameter.

It takes 45 minutes for Jenny to drive to work from home. 10 minutes for getting subs on the way accounted. When "Jenny the sub-maker" is late to prepare subs, she must be warned, since Jenny wants her subs on time and "Jenny the Boss" is concerned with "Jenny the Investor".

Everything must fit in the formula. (!)

Tricky

A threat or confusing sentences or humiliation or hail or surprises

now I am, who knows what is for why, instead of living what it's trying to give to me.

Orbit

Mass-gravity rule (understanding) may be over.

Rotational speed of earth may be definer of distance to sun. Both stable.

Adding radius and mass, entire galaxy can be an equation, resulting zero, since balanced.

It keeps rotating and Can not get closer because it is fast Can not move away because its slow

Ellipsis imbalance, may be due to some other reason
